AEG JOB SHADOWING PROGRAMS HOSTED AT THE STUBHUB CENTER

In 2011, the AEG Job Shadowing Program was established as a partnership that brings educators, industry, and community partners together to create a supplemental educational opportunity for high school students. Youth participants gain valuable experience and insight into the world of work through direct observation, hands on activities, and close engagement with AEG team members. Students are identified by a non-profit organization serving Los Angeles area high schools or by the Diversity and Inclusion team, using objective criteria such as GPA, teacher referral, and AEG's Job

Shadowing application process. The StubHub Center and LA Galaxy invited the participating youth out to the StubHub Center for two programs in 2016. One program took place prior and during the Wednesday, June 22, 2016 LA Galaxy vs. Colorado Rapids game. The youth were able to go behind the scenes with StubHub Center Foundation, LA Galaxy & StubHub Center Marketing, Communications, Broadcasting and Sponsorship for a tour and pregame preparation and enjoy the game from a luxury suite. The second program with the Wiley Center students on July 8, 2016 allowed the youth to have a seat down discussion, Q&A and lunch with the StubHub Center GM Katie Pandolfo, StubHub Center Foundation, LA Galaxy & StubHub Center Marketing, Communications, Broadcasting, and Sponsorship.
